Question 21

Description: Read the passage quickly. Choose a heading for each numbered paragraph (1-7) from the drop-down box. The early Australians

1. _ The history of early Australians stretches back much further than previously believed, with evidence suggesting human presence on the Australian continent dating back approximately 65,000 years. This timeline challenges traditional views held by historians regarding the first human settlers in Australia. Carbon analysis of archaeological sites has provided different results, leading to alternative hypotheses about the early inhabitants of the land Down Under. The findings shed new light on the ancient origins and rich cultural heritage of the Indigenous people who have inhabited the continent for millennia.

1. No precise figures available
2. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets
3. A journey made in stages
4. Lacking both knowledge and skills
5. The early Australians
6. The determination of the explorer in ages
7. New evidence to speculation
8. An alternative history to the settlement

2. _ Recent discoveries have revealed that the settlement of Australia was not a singular event. In addition to the early settlers, scientists have uncovered traces of two other human groups that migrated to the continent. The presence of multiple groups suggests a complex history of human migration and interaction. However, reaching the isolated continent would have posed significant challenges for ancient humans, as they would have needed to traverse vast stretches of open sea, a feat seemingly impossible with the technology available to them at the time.

1. No precise figures available
2. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets
3. A journey made in stages
4. Lacking both knowledge and skills
5. The early Australians
6. The determination of the explorer in ages
7. A natural barrier to resettlement
8. New evidence to speculation

3. _ The aid of advanced equipment and techniques has allowed scientists to identify a series of small islands closely connected, forming a continuous pathway leading to Australia. Remote sensing technology has helped researchers identify and map small islands and potential migration routes. Geographic Information Systems (GIS) have integrated various data sets, to discover about the past migration corridors. This discovery provides insight into the probable routes taken by ancient migrants as they ventured across the vast expanse of the sea, providing a deeper understanding of the complex migration patterns that shaped the early history of the continent.

1. No precise figures available
2. An alternative history to the settlement
3. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets
4. A journey made in stages
5. Lacking both knowledge and skills
6. The early Australians
7. The determination of the explorer in ages
8. New evidence leads to speculation

4. _ The migration patterns of early Australians reveal a gradual journey to the continent. Archaeological evidence points to the likelihood of different tribes arriving in Australia through a series of island-hopping journeys. Each island served as a resting point and a source of food, allowing them to continue their voyage. This gradual movement indicates an adaptive and resourceful approach taken by these ancient tribes, who navigated the challenges of the terrain to ultimately settle in Australia.

1. No precise figures available
2. An alternative history to the settlement
3. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets
4. A journey made in stages
5. Lacking both knowledge and skills
6. The early Australians
7. The determination of the explorer in ages
8. New evidence leads to speculation

5. _ Scientists can only speculate about the exact number of individuals required to undertake such a migration, which could have ranged from a small group to several thousand people. The uncertainty stems from various factors, including the limitations of available archaeological evidence and the complexities of ancient human migration. The lack of exact statistics makes it challenging to determine the scale and composition of these early human journeys accurately. However, ongoing research and technological advancements may offer more insights in the future.

1. No precise figures available
2. An alternative history to the settlement
3. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets
4. A journey made in stages
5. Lacking both knowledge and skills
6. The early Australians
7. The determination of the explorer in ages
8. New evidence leads to speculation

6. _ Some skeptics argue that ancient humans didn't have enough the intellectual capacity, knowledge, and skills needed to undertake such journeys. They question whether early humans possessed the navigational and maritime expertise to traverse vast stretches of ocean. Critics contend that without advanced tools or navigational aids, navigating through open seas would have been beyond the capabilities of ancient civilizations. However, it is crucial to acknowledge that human ingenuity and adaptability have proven remarkable throughout history, enabling our ancestors to overcome various challenges and achieve extraordinary feats.

1. No precise figures available
2. An alternative history to the settlement
3. Technology helps uncover the sea's secrets

4. A journey made in stages
5. Lacking both knowledge and skills
6. The early Australians
7. The determination of the explorer in ages
8. New evidence leads to speculation

7. _ History has demonstrated the unwavering determination and resilience of human explorers in the past. From deep-sea expeditions in ancient times to modern space travel, humans have showcased their resolve to explore and conquer the unknown. The same determination might have driven the early Australians to embark on perilous journeys across treacherous waters. While the challenges they faced were undoubtedly immense, the spirit of human curiosity and the desire to discover new lands and opportunities likely motivated these ancient explorers, leaving a remarkable legacy in the annals of history.

It was a fun place to learn and grow up.

Question 23 (File nghe 752)

Description: In this part, I'm going to ask you to describe a picture. Then I will ask you two questions about it. You will have 45 seconds for each response. Begin speaking when you hear this sound.

File nghe: 3951

Suggest: In the picture, I can see 2 men on the street. In the background, I cannot see anything because it is so blurry. In the front, there are 2 men wearing grey vests. It is clear that 1 man is reading the newspapers and the other one is surfing the Internet. I guess they are feeling attentive. To be honest, this picture is so beautiful that it might have been taken by a professional.

How do you usually find out about the news?

File nghe: 3952

Suggest: Let me tell you about how I usually find out about the news. I often use my phone to read the news everyday. It is a wonderful way for me to broaden my social knowledge and make friends who have the same hobby. Besides, I read newspapers because it is time-saving and convenient.

Why is it important to read about the news everyday?

File nghe: 3953

Suggest: It is important to read about the news everyday for several reasons. First, it is a good way to broaden people's social knowledge and gain more experience. Second, reading about the news allows people to refresh my mind and reduce stress after a long day at work. For me, I often read news everyday to update about life.

Question 23 (File nghe 753)

Description: In this part, I'm going to ask you to compare two pictures, and I will then ask you two questions about them. You will have 45 seconds for each response. Begin speaking when you hear this sound.

Describe 2 pictures.

File nghe: 3954

Suggest: Both pictures show me entertaining activities. In the first picture, I can see a family sitting on a white car. They are taking selfies with their phones and looking very happy, as I can see the smiles on their faces. In the second picture, there is a man in a café. He is sitting by himself and taking notes, which shows that he is focused and attentive. I think everyone in these pictures is having a good time. I prefer the first picture because I love travelling with my family.

Do you prefer recording memories by picture or by words? Why?

File nghe: 3955

Suggest: I prefer recording memories by picture because they show real moments. A photo can capture a smile or a beautiful place very quickly. When I look at a picture, I remember how I felt at that time. Words are nice, but they can be harder to remember.

File nghe: 3959

Suggest: People like taking photos with their mobile phones because of several reasons. First, it is cheap and convenient. Everyone has a phone, so it's simple to take a picture anytime. Second, They can share their photos with friends and family on social media, which makes them feel connected.

Question 23 (File nghe 754)

Description: In this part, I'm going to show you a picture and ask you three questions. You will have one minute to think about your answers before you start speaking. You will have two minutes to answer all three questions. Begin speaking when you hear this sound. Look at the photograph.

Tell me about a time you were with someone older or younger than you. How do you feel in the situation? How do you think different generations can learn from each other?

File nghe: 3960

Suggest: Now, I am going to answer the 3 questions, which are: Tell me about a time you were with someone older or younger than you. How do you feel in this situation? How do you think different generations can learn from each other? Regarding the first question, let me tell you about a time that I was with someone older or younger than me and it was when my parents took me to Danang City. Well, Da Nang is famous for its beaches, and for example one of them is My Khe, which is one of the most wonderful beaches in the world, so every year, there are many tourists going to the area to see the beauty of the beach. Therefore, going to this city was extremely expensive for me at that time. It was when I was a second- year student at university. At that time, I really wished for a trip to Danang city. So after exams, my parents gave me a gift by taking me to Danang city so that I can relax and reduce stress after a long day at studying. My dad is 30 years older than me because he is now 50 years olds. My mom is now 45 years olds. Turning to the second question, at that time, I felt very delighted and excited because I could gain more experience after the trip . As for the final question, I agree that Different generations can learn a lot from each other. For example, older people can share their experiences and teach younger ones important life lessons. Younger people can teach older ones about new technology and trends. Thank you for listening.

Suggest: Dear Club Manager, My name is Peter. I have been a member of our club for 3 months. I am writing in response to your latest email. I am writing in response to your latest email. According to the news, our club is planning to implement changes, such as charging admission fees to museums next year. To be honest, I am quite worried to hear that news. I believe that most of our members in the club share my sentiments about this change. It is high time we made some radical changes to address this problem. I would love to share my ideas. I think we should introduce a discounted membership program or offer free days once a month to encourage people to continue visiting. Besides, it is also advisable that we create engaging, themed events to attract new visitors. By implementing these strategies, we can enhance the visitor experience and ensure a steady stream of attendees. As a result, this approach could help mitigate the potential negative impact of the changes. I hope my suggestions will be useful and I am looking forward to hearing from you soon. Best regards, Peter
