Question 21

Description: Four people respond in the comments section of an online magazine article about eating. Decide whose opinion matches the statements below. Read the texts and complete the questions below. Person A As a child, I always enjoyed eating with friends, whether it was at family gatherings or simple meals after school. Sharing food was a way for me to bond with people, and it still brings back happy memories. I believe that the company makes the meal more enjoyable and turns any ordinary dish into a special occasion. Person B A few years ago, I used to eat out a lot, but I realized I needed to save money on eating. Now, I prefer to eat alone, where I can enjoy my meal in peace without distractions. Eating alone allows me to focus on the taste and quality of the food without the need for conversation. Person

C Going to a restaurant is exciting because I like a wide variety of food, and I'm always eager to try new dishes from different cultures. I'm also taking a cookery course to improve my skills, so I can recreate some of my favorite meals at home and expand my culinary knowledge. Person D Fast food is nowhere near as good as home-cooked food because it feels healthier and more comforting than eating out. However, I just eat a few types of food, sticking to simple, familiar dishes that I know I'll enjoy. I'm not very adventurous when it comes to trying new things, but I appreciate the comfort of my favorite meals.

Question 22

Description: Read the passage quickly. Choose a heading for each numbered paragraph (1–7) from the drop-down box. There is one more heading than you need. CONSUMER AGE OF THE 20TH CENTURY

1._ The movement towards making products last longer has gained momentum in response to environmental concerns and the negative impacts of consumerism. Emphasizing durability and quality over quantity, this shift encourages sustainable practices that reduce waste. As industries adapt to consumer demand for long-lasting products, a culture of mindfulness in consumption is emerging, promoting sustainability across various sectors.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer
7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

2. _ The "consume age" reflects a temporary societal experiment characterized by fast fashion and instant gratification, often prioritizing immediate satisfaction over long-term value. While this approach offers convenience, its unsustainable nature has led to environmental degradation and economic instability. As society faces these consequences, there's a growing need to reassess consumption patterns and adopt responsible practices for a sustainable future.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer

7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

3._ Secrecy in the consume age often masks the true costs of production, including environmental harm and labor exploitation, leading to consumer ignorance. This lack of transparency perpetuates irresponsible consumption habits. However, increasing consumer awareness is prompting calls for greater transparency in supply chains, encouraging companies to adopt more ethical practices that prioritize sustainability and accountability.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer
7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

4. _ The principles of responsible consumption and sustainability remain highly relevant today, particularly in light of ongoing climate challenges. Movements advocating for minimalism, recycling, and upcycling are gaining traction, promoting experiences over material goods. Educational initiatives are also raising awareness about the environmental impacts of consumption, underscoring the importance of informed choices in fostering a sustainable future.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer
7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

5._ Generosity can be difficult in a consumer-driven society where individual gain often overshadows collective well-being. This dilemma is compounded by societal norms prioritizing personal success. To foster a culture of generosity, individuals must recognize the value of collaboration and support, understanding that generosity benefits both individuals and their communities, ultimately leading to a more equitable society.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer
7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

6._ Compromise is essential in the consume age, allowing individuals to balance personal desires with collective responsibilities. Consumers face dilemmas that require them to weigh convenience against environmental impact. By making conscious compromises—such as choosing sustainable brands or supporting local businesses—individuals can contribute to a sustainable future while enjoying the benefits of modern life.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise
5. Important lessons for us all
6. Making things last longer
7. Still relevant in our times
8. The challenge of staying in trend

7. _ The consume age imparts vital lessons about consumption, emphasizing that true value lies in quality and impact rather than quantity. By embracing sustainability, individuals can take responsibility for their choices and contribute to their communities. Lessons learned highlight the importance of transparency, collaboration, and generosity, encouraging consumers to prioritize practices that foster a sustainable and equitable future for all.

1. A temporary experiment
2. A reason for secrecy
3. The difficulty of being generous
4. A reason for making a compromise

Question 23 (File nghe 596)

Description: In this part, I am going to ask you three short questions about yourself and your interests. You will have 30 seconds to reply to each question. Begin speaking when you hear this sound.

Please tell me about the last thing you saw on television.

File nghe: 3271

Suggest: Version 1: The last thing I saw on television was the TV news. I watched that programme when I had lunch with my family and I remember that it was about some political problems and weather forecast. That's all I want to share and thank you for listening. Version 2: The last thing I saw on television was a nature documentary. It showed animals in the jungle, like monkeys, birds, and tigers. I learned a lot about how these animals live. The pictures were beautiful, and I enjoyed watching it.

Please tell me about your favorite film star.

File nghe: 3274

Suggest: Version 1: My favorite film star is Tom Holland. He is famous for playing Spider-Man in movies. I like him because he is a good actor and seems like a nice person. I enjoy watching his movies because they are exciting and fun to watch. Version 2: I'd like to introduce Tom Holland, who I know from the Spider-man series. I have known him for 5 years from the movie End Game movie. To me he is a talented actor and I was moved by his acting. That's all I want to share and thank you for listening.

Please tell me about a famous place.

File nghe: 3276

Suggest: Version 1: In my opinion, Ho Chi Minh City is the most popular city in Vietnam. It is very busy and full of life. The Ben Thanh Market is a popular tourist destination, where you can find many foods and local products. Another important place is the Central History Museum. It shows the history of Vietnam and the Vietnam War. Version 2: One famous place in my country is Ha Long Bay. It is very beautiful with many big rocks in the sea. Many people visit Ha Long Bay to see the boats and the water. I went there with my family last year, and it was a great trip.

Question 23 (File nghe 597)

Description: In this part, I'm going to ask you to describe a picture. Then I will ask you two questions about it. You will have 45 seconds for each response. Begin speaking when you hear this sound.

Describe this picture

File nghe: 3284

Suggest: In the picture, I can see many people. In the front, I can see that the people are crossing the street. They are wearing casual clothes (as opposed to formal clothes). The way they walk seems relaxed and natural. In the background, I can see some tall buildings, which give the impression that this is a city center. It is clear that this is a busy street. I guess that people usually go here to play or socialize. This is a beautiful picture. I love it because it captures a lively moment in everyday life. The contrast between the tall buildings and the people adds a sense of balance to the scene, making it feel both vibrant and serene.

Tell me about a time you were in a crowded place

File nghe: 3288

Suggest: Let me tell you about a time when I was in a crowded place. It was 2 weeks ago. I went to a concert, and it was an amazing experience. There were many people there, all excited and cheering for the performers. The atmosphere was lively, and the energy from the crowd made the concert even more thrilling. It was interesting because I got to see one of my favorite bands live for the first time. The music was fantastic, and I felt completely immersed in the moment. The lights and visuals added to the excitement, making it an unforgettable experience. I love it, and I would definitely go to another concert in the future!

What do most people don't like in a crowded place?

File nghe: 3291

Suggest: Most people don't like crowded places because there isn't much space to move. It can be easy to bump into others, which feels uncomfortable. The noise can be loud, making it hard to talk or hear clearly. Many people feel like they don't have any personal space, which can cause stress. In a crowd, it's also hard to find a place to sit or relax. Some feel nervous with so many people around.

Question 23 (File nghe 600)

Description: In this part, I'm going to ask you to compare two pictures, and I will then ask you two questions about them. You will have 45 seconds for each response. Begin speaking when you hear this sound.

Describe the 2 pictures

File nghe: 3292

Suggest: Both pictures are beautiful. In the first picture, I can see some people with difficulties playing basketball, but they look very happy, showing that they are enjoying the game despite the challenges. In the second picture, I can see four people shaking hands before playing tennis, looking healthy and sporty, ready for a fun match. I like the second picture more because it highlights sportsmanship and the excitement of competition. The handshake symbolizes respect and camaraderie between players, which is an important aspect of any sport. Overall, both images convey a sense of joy and passion for sports, but the second one resonates with me on a deeper level.

What is your favorite sport?

File nghe: 3293

Suggest: My favorite sport is football because it brings me closer to my friends. We usually play on the weekends at a local park, where we can enjoy the fresh air and sunshine. It helps me reduce stress and relax after a busy week, and the feeling of kicking the ball and scoring goals is exhilarating. I also love the teamwork involved, as we need to communicate and work together to win. Watching professional matches inspires me and motivates me to improve my skills. Sometimes, we even organize friendly matches with other teams, which makes it even more exciting. Overall, football is not just a sport for me; it's a way to bond with friends and stay active!

What are the differences/benefits of indoor and outdoor activities?

File nghe: 3294

Suggest: Each activity has its own attractions. In the first activity, we can play indoors, which helps us avoid the hot and sunny weather. It's a comfortable way to stay active without worrying about the heat. In the second activity, we can play outdoors, which allows us to enjoy the beautiful weather outside and make friends by interacting with others in an open environment. For me, I think I like the second activity more because I love being outside and meeting new people. The fresh air and social aspect make it more enjoyable for me. Overall, both activities have their benefits, but the outdoor option provides a sense of freedom and connection with nature that I truly appreciate.

Question 23 (File nghe 602)

Description: In this part, I'm going to show you a picture and ask you three questions. You will have one minute to think about your answers before you start speaking. You will have two minutes to answer all three questions. Begin speaking when you hear this sound. Look at the photograph.

Describe a time you went to an amusement park. How do you feel when going to these places? Rides at amusement parks are scary. Why do most people take part in these activities?

File nghe: 3295

Suggest: Now, I am going to answer the three questions that you gave me. Regarding the first question, let me tell you about a time I went to an amusement park. It was 2 years ago, and I learned about an amusement park in Da Nang that piqued my interest, so I wanted to go there. Da Nang is famous for its beaches; for example, one of them is My Khe, which is considered one of the most wonderful beaches in the world. Every year, many tourists visit the area to see the beauty of the beach, which makes it quite popular. Therefore, going to this city was extremely expensive for me at that time, but the experience was definitely worth it. During the trip, I learned new things about the culture there, which really surprised me. I love what I have learned, especially about the local traditions and cuisine. While in Da Nang, I did a number of things; first of all, I went sightseeing in the mountains, where I enjoyed a beautiful view of the city below. I also visited some historical sites that gave me a deeper understanding of the region's history and significance. Turning to the second question, I feel happy when I go to these places because they allow me to escape my daily routine and experience something new and exciting. As for the final question, there are many reasons why people take part in these activities. First, they enjoy the thrill of trying something adventurous or dangerous. Second, these experiences help them relax and reduce stress, which is essential for maintaining a balanced life. Lastly, engaging in such activities often fosters connections with others, as it creates shared memories and experiences.
